If you have read this far, there are four people you should know:

1. Isaac Watson Dunham of Hartford, Connecticut, who spent much of his life researching his roots and cousins and who, in 1907, published the "Dunham Genealogy" sub-titled "English and American Branches of the Dunham Family."
2. Frank K. Lorenz, Curator of Special Collections, Hamilton College, who provided the compiler with many pounds of documentation.
3. Janine C. Krecidlo, Library Director of Dunham Public Library, for her courteous assistance.
4. George Earl Dunham (1859/1922) whose generous philanthropy has made possible this library and the library of his alma mater, Hamilton College.

The following documents will take one back through 38 generations from George Earl Dunham (1859/1922) to the grandfather of King Alfred "The Great" in the eighth century in England.

FOURTH GENERATION

Reference: IJH94W.

Isaac Watson Dunham, in his "Dunham Genealogy" in pages 22 and 38, has a number of errors and confusing statements in respect to Mary Earl, Samuel Dunham (born 1733, #66) and his son Samuel (born 15 January 1765, #94). Based on the data IWD has given, I conclude that Mary Earl married Samuel #94, and that his father, Samuel #66 was the Revolutionary Soldier. (WJW, 12/29/90).

She married (ibid.) Samuel "Reverend" Dunham 17-2 (4).

TENTH GENERATION

19. John "Deacon" [10] Dunham 11-1 (Thomas 10-1, 25) (SDM-, Pp19-21; LEYDEN, A, fol. 137, verso, Pg.XLIX) ((From Leydon Records, Betrothalbook, A. fol. 137, verso, P.XLIX): "paid" (Banns) the 1st: Oct. 8th, 1622; the 2d: Oct. 15th, 1622; the 3d: Oct. 22d, 1622 are married by Alphen and Groenendyc, bailiffs, on the XXII of October 16.. Entered October 7th 1622. John Dunham, from England, widower of Suzanna Keno (? Kenney), accompanied by Thomas Balliou, his future father-in-law, with Abigail Balliou, spinster, also from England, accompanied by Ann Balliou her sister."

Sophie Dunham Moore, in her book "JACOB DUNHAM GENEALOGY with English and American Ancestry of Dunham Family" (Kalamazoo, Mich, 1963) says:

"The exact time of Dunham's arrival in Plymouth is not known but it was prior to 1633, as Dunham paid a tax that year in Plymouth, so was the owner of property. Governor Bradford's "History and Letter Book" states that "With the arrival of the Mayflower that sailed from Grave(send) May 15, 1629, 35 members were added to the Plymouth Colony". He does not list the names of those arrivals. However a number of names such as John Dunham, Robert Chandler, etc. appear and reappear in the Leyden records up to about this time. Shortly after this, these names appear in the Plymouth annals so it is possible that these families came to Plymouth on the Mayflower of 1629. One authority says that "John Dunham may have come on the sloop James I (1630-32); Bank's "Winthrop Fleet" states that "On October 21, 1630, the Handmaid arrived with 60 passengers" - no names are listed. Just when he came seems impossible to learn; we do know he was in Plymouth in 1632 as in the inventory of goods of Peter Brown, we find "Peter indebted to John Dunham 00-04-00". Dunham was probably in Holland in 1624 when his wife was a witness of her sister Anne Balliou, and in 1633, when the first tax was levied in Plymouth, John Dunham's tax was 9 shillings, so he was a man of property at that time. He was also a man of considerable standing in the community as in 1633 he was elected Deacon in the Church, a position not given to unknown men; this position he held until his death.

He followed the trade of a weaver in Plymouth and engaged in the cattle business for which purpose he continually added to his land possessions. His residence was southwest of the village and part of his land was along Dunham's Brook and included the strip separating Billington Sea from Little Pond, which land is still called Dunham's Neck.

In the Plymouth Records we find the following items; "In 1639 John Dunham was chosen Deputy of the colony and continues in that position for 17 years. In 1642, he represented Plymouth at a Court to consider war against the Indians. He served on various committees of the Governor's, being a member of the Committee to revise the laws of the Colony in 1650. Dunham was one of the 36 original Proprietors of Dartmouth, as were Wm. Bradford, Miles Standish, John Alden and others. He was a member of the Plymouth Military Company; he represented Plymouth from 1639-1664 on the Legislative Committee and was one of the men who inventoried Governor Bradford's possessions at the time of his death. Items in Plymouth records concerning John Dunham include:

1633---Assessed 9 sh. tax

1634---Oct. 1, on committee appointed by the Gov. and council to consider trade.

1636---Mar. 7, on list of freemen; June 7, on jury; Mar. 7, Grand Jury.

1639---May 15, Elected to Governor's Council to enact laws; June 4, Deputy to Court at Plymouth.

1640---Oct. 5, Granted upland at the head of his lot.

1641---Sept. 16, Granted 3 acres upland and 8 acres of meadow.

1642---Sept. 27, Deputy at Court to consider war against Indians.

1643---On list of those between 16-60, able to bear arms; this included his sons, John, Thomas and Samuel.

1644---With Miles Standish and one other to audit account of Thos. Prince.

1654---Deputy for Plymouth to meet at Conn. for Conference.

This record concerning John Dunham is also taken from the records: "He was a man of strict honesty and sterling character, quite prominent in the growth and prosperity of the Colony."

Deacon John Dunham's inventory of possessions was made on 16 March 1668/9.). Born, 1589, in Scrooby, Notts, England. Died, 2 Mar 1668/9, in Plymouth, MA. Occupation: Linen-Weaver. Individual flags: DirAnc.

BENAJAH DUNHAM and ELIZABETH TILSON

"Benajah and Elizabeth (Tilson) Dunham moved from Plymouth to Eastham, Massachusetts following their marriage at Plymouth on 25 October 1660. At Eastham he was admitted freeman in 1664 and was court officer in 1669. In 1671 they sold their land at Eastham and joined the migration of many of the Plymouth families to East New Jersey, where they settled at Piscataway in Middlesex County [near New Brunswick]. He purchased more than 100 acres in Piscataway in 1672. In 1673 and following he was Captain of Militia. Benajah Dunham died at the age of 40 years, having written his will on 10 May 1679, proved in the Middlesex Court 12 August 1680. Elizabeth (Tilson) Dunham died at Piscataway within four years following her husband's death. Of their seven children, whose births are recorded at Eastham, Massachusetts, and Piscataway, New Jersey, only three were living at the time of Benajah Dunham's death in 1680."

29. George [11] Morton 15 (George of Bawtry 14, 33) (CORR-EPD/HAD, 25 Apr 1938)

George Morton was a merchant in York, England in 1612, in which year he became a member of the Leyden, Holland congregation of John Robinson and married Juliana Carpenter. He joined the Pilgrim colony in Leyden and 'Later went to London where he was one of the prime movers in securing backing for the Pilgrims sailing to the New World. He and his family embarked in the "Speedwell" of 1620, but were forced to turn back when that ship had troubles. The Morton family finally sailed on the ship "Anne" arriving at Plymouth in June 1623.

He was the author of "Mort's Relations," a well-known volume. After his death, his wife married Manassa Kempton and she died at Plymouth on 19 February 1665. She was a sister of Governor Bradford's wife Alice (Carpenter) Southworth; for that reason several of her children were brought up in Governor Bradford's family.). He became a Freeman on 3 January 1637, a grand juryman in 1639 and again in 1646. The following year he became "Secretary" (which was later changed to "Clerk") of the Plymouth General Court, a position he held until his death. His famous "New Englands Memoriall" was written in 1669, much of which was based on his uncle William's notes. This was followed in 1680 by "A Briefe Ecclesiastall History of the Church of Christ at Plimouth, Anno Domi 1680."

His will was written 22 April 1685 and the inventory of his estate in July, the same year.). Born, 13 Nov 1613, in Leyden, Holland. Died, 28 Jun 1685, in Plymouth, MA. Occupation: Sec'y, Plymouth. He married (PC, P330), first, Lydia Cooper (MSR, P548)
